Onion, edible oil prices to cool down during festival season: Centre

SANJEEB MUKHERJEE & AGENCIES New Delhi, 22 October

The Centre on Friday exuded confidence that retail prices of staples such as onions and essential items like edible oils will come down further in the next few weeks. This is set to provide the much-needed relief to consumers during the festive season.

In the case of onions, food secretary Sudhanshu Pandey said the new harvest will start hitting the market soon. This will cap the price increase. and in the case of edible oils. states will start imposing stock limits next week. Reduction in duties will start showing results, all of which will provide relief to con-

Pandey also discounted the possibility of immediate ban on onion exports, saving that prices haven't crossed the threshold limit and steps are being taken to further cool them down.

Onion prices in the retail markets have risen by almost 45 per cent since early October in Delhi's markets. This is over fears that heavy late monsoon in major growing states damaged the standing kharif crop.

However, data provided by the Centre shows that standing crops, in around 15 per cent of the sown area, have been damaged in the recent rains.

Pandey also said the average onion price was ruling at Customs duty and empower ₹41.5 per kg on October 21, The Centre estimates 2021, much lower than ₹55.6 are yielding results.

Can't guarantee India's concerns will be addressed, says WTO D-G

But assures the longstanding issue of farm, fisheries subsidies will be heard at ministerial

SHREYA NANDI New Delhi, 22 October

World Trade Organization (WTO) director-general (D-G) Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala on Friday said India's stand on fisheries and farm subsidies would be heard at the WTO ministerial conference (MC). However, she did not assure that the country's concerns would be addressed.

In a meeting with Okonjo-Iweala, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, however, stressed on fair, just and equitable outcome at the WTO Ministerial to meet developmental requirements of India for its people.

Wrapping up her three-day visit to India, WTO D-G was also hopeful of a "good outcome" at the 12th MC that will kick off at the end of next month in Geneva. As far as the long-standing issue of fisheries subsidies is concerned, Okonjo-Iweala said India's view on its

India has maintained that in its current shape, the agreement is not balanced, even as India has been keen on finalising fisheries subsidies agreement at the WTO. While India is not in favour of blocking the negotiations on fisheries subsidies, it has put its own proposal on

India and other developing countries are allowed to provide domestic subsidies at around $400 per capita, while it goes up to nearly $40,000 in some of the developed countries.

New Delhi also argues that the countries that indulge in over-fishing should stop their fisheries subsidies while others should be allowed 25 years to develop their own fishing capabilities in a sustainable manner.

India also suggested that those countries, which are engaged in distant water fishing beyond their natural geographic areas, should stop giving subsidies for 25 years in fishing areas beyond their exclusive economic zones.

ExxonMobil and ONGC to extend partnership to Andaman offshore

New Delhi, 22 October

India is doubling up efforts to bring in private participation across the value chain of the oil and gas sector. According to a top oil ministry official, global oil and gas major ExxonMobil is in talks with public sector undertaking (PSU) Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) for a large domestic oil and gas exploration project.

In another significant develop ment, the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas is said to be facilitating talks between private sector oil refining companies and PSUs to bring down the costs of crude oil purchases.

These talks were taken forward during meetings between ExxonMobil's executives and oil ministry officials on Friday. "The focus of the agreement is on offshore exploration. ONGC's Andaman offshore asset is part of the discussions between the two companies," the official told Business "ExxonMobil's initial participation will be related to exploration and seismic activities. But it may extend to a stake buy," he added.

between public and private sector oil refiners for joint crude oil purchases, Petroleum Minister Hardeep Puri said, "Private companies are enthused by the plan.'

If successful, these contracts will happen for the first time in India, where oil refineries usually approach oil producers individually. There is some synergy between PSUs, but the private sector has not been involved in it till now.

India has been looking at avenues to cut crude oil purchase costs. Private refiners such as Reliance and Navara Energy command over a third of India's total crude oil refining capac-

"The partnership with ONGC has entered the second phase which entails transfer of data. Some approvals were required for it which have come now. We are examining all existing deep-water assets under this partnership," another official aware of the developments said.

"We have encouraged them to do more exploration and production in India. We had taken some decisions on sharing our knowledge and data, we are taking other steps. I think the point which comes through in all these meetings, whether it is Exxon, or TotalEnergies or anyone else, is that they saw the positive vibes and political commitment on this," Petroleum Minister, Hardeep Puri said at a press conference after the conclusion of India Energy Forum by CERAWeek.

"We will do whatever is required to boost domestic oil and gas production. Out of the 26 sedimentary basins, only eight are under exploration. When a government makes a statement to that effect, it indicates both clarity and statement of intent, that we propose in a very focused time-bound manner to subject the other sedimentary basins also to exploration," Puri said in response to queries from this paper.

BMS to Protest against Disinvestment on Oct 28

NSE Unveils Data Connect with SGX Via Gift City

MUMBAI Foreign funds trading in Indian derivatives through Singapore Exchange (SGX) will start having access to live price feeds of

Nifty from International Financial Services Centre (IFSC), Gift City, Gandhinagar. On Friday, the National Stock Exchange (NSE) launched data connectivity with the SGX through IFSC. This is seen as the first step towards migrating the Nifty trades happening on SGX to India. NSE had cancelled the data-sharing agreement with SGX back in 2018 due to which the SGX traders received only the end of the day price information and all the real-time price data feeds were no longer available to them. Now, they can access the real-time data from IFSC, said people privy to the development. "This market data connect will allow the SGX members to read the price data of Nifty derivative products at NSE IFSC in real time, which will help them to fine tune their trading strategies in preparation for the connect to go live," said

Mumbai: Non-banking finance companies (NBFC) cannot lend more than the crore to investors seeking to buy stocks in initial share sales from April 1 next year, India's central bank said late on Friday, tightening capital adequacy and provisioning rules for last-mile lenders to reduce risks to the broader financial system.

"NBFCs can fix more conservative limits," the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) said in a note. "There shall be a ceiling of Rs1 crore per borrower for financing subscriptions to Initial Public Offerings (IPO)."

The curbs are a part of the RBI's "scale-based regulations" aimed at mitigating systemic risks.

New central bank rules might reduce the quantum of funds available with high networth investors (HNI) for bidding in IPOs. Leveraged bidding, which involves exiting the stocks following listing gains and paying back the financier, might reduce when the new lending limits are enforced.

"The number of oversubscriptions in the HNI category will come down, which will benefit the price discovery process on the listing day," said Dharmesh Mehra, CEO, DAM Capital. "Currently, those subscribers on leverage dump the stocks on the first day itself."

To be sure, the new rules effective April 1 wouldn't apply to the upcoming IPOs of Paytm or Nykaa.

NBFCs, dividing them in four distinct categories, to bring regulatory parity with bank regulations. These are Base Layer, Middle Layer, Upper Layer and Top Layer.

NBFCs marked as investment and credit firms, micro finance institutions and factoring companies will have to raise net owned funds – the sum total of equity capital and free reserves-to ₹10 crore by March-end, 2027, from the existing ₹2-5 crore. NBFCs falling in the first category will now need to recognise bad loans following the bank standard of 90-day overdues. This will be done in three phases until the end of FY26. By then, those last-mile lenders will be on a par with banks in classifying sour assets.

"While this shall harmonize the prudential norms for these NBFCs with that for banks and other large NBFCs, what remains to be seen is The RBI set a framework for how soon these NBFCs are also gi-borrowers/parties," the RBI said.

Working Towards Restoring Trust in

NBFCs: Dy Guv Rao

Mumbai: The Reserve Bank on Friday acknowledged that non-banking financial companies have faced reputational loss due to the failure of a few large entities in recent times. Speaking at an event, deputy governor M Rajeshwar Rao said that it was important to restore trust in these critical entities. NBFCs are considered crucial for providing formal financing to the unbanked. "The reputation of the non-banking financial sector has been dented in recent times by failure of certain entities due to idiosyncratic factors," Rao said. "The challenge, therefore, is to restore trust in the sector by ensuring that a few entities or activities do not generate vulnerabilities that go undetected and create shocks and give rise to systemic risk through their interlinkages". -Our Bureau

Will Retort if India Faces Unfair Trade Rules: Goyal

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal on Friday said there are several non-tariff barriers that need to be addressed, and wherever India faces an unfair treatment on the trade front, it will take reciprocal action.

Non-tariff barriers to trade are restrictive practices which create impediments in smooth flow of imports and exports.

"Trade today requires a lot of study, deep diving into what practices other countries follow, Goyal said.

"There are a lot of non-tariff barriers that need to be studied. We need to work to resolve those barriers," he said at the 54th convocation of Indian Institute of India will have to take reciprocal action." The minister said India is (IIFT). "Wherever we find unfair, unjust

Trade

treatment to India,

Foreign

ting free trade agreements with several countries, including the UK, UAE and Australia, and young talents from IIFT can help in achieving the transformational agenda for India's trade. On exports, Goyal expressed confidence that the country will achieve the $400 billion target for this fiscal. "We are confident of achieving this year. We have already done $197 billion in six months. We are aspiring to go up to $1 trillion in the near future, each for goods and services....' he said. "For this, we need thousands of young boys and girls coming out from IIFT."

Goyal also called for free trade within a rules-based multilateral trading system with honesty and transparency as core va> lues. Further, he said that during FTA talks, the subject of dual degrees and collaborations with HFT come up for discussions. "I would urge you to take the process of dual degrees forward, to fast-track it and identify institutions of excellence across the world."
